Warm your heart this holiday season with A Cup of Christmas Tea. Since it was published twenty-five years ago, Twin Citian Tom Hegg's beloved tale has sold more than 1.7 million copies and has appeared on The New York Times bestseller list four times. The story illustrates the importance of family and the power of memories through a young man's visit with his elderly aunt, during which they share a cup of Christmas tea. To commemorate the book's milestone, Tristan Publishing has released a special twenty-fifth-anniversary edition of the book and Hegg and St. Paul-based illustrator Warren Hanson are doing readings and signings across the Twin Cities, including Dec. 17. Barnes & Noble, Galleria, 3225 W. 69th St., Edina, 952-920-0633, barnesandnoble.com, tristanpublishing.com
